

MAN COLLAPSES IN MAIN STREET STORE

A man whose name was later learned as C. Quinn, and who said he was from Baton Rouge, suffered a collapse in Ligon's cigar store on Main street yesterday afternoon and remained unconscious for some little time.

Patrons in the store who saw that his condition was apparently serious, called in Dr. J. L. Jennings, who had the man removed to Edmunds hospital after giving him temporary treatment. Physical exhaustion was ascribed by Dr. Jennings last night for the sudden collapse of the man.

On being revived the man said that he had not been long in arriving in Danville, merely passing through on his way to Washington. He had stopped by to get a cup of coffee, he said, when the spell overtook him. It was reported at Edmunds hospital last night that Quinn was resting more comfortably but suffering from a deep cold.

OVER 32 MILLION POUNDS SOLD SO FAR ON AUCTION FLOORS

To date 32,024,081 pounds of tobacco has been sold on the local auction floors, according to a report issued by the tobacco association yesterday. Sales for the week ending February 7, 1933, totaled $1,186,350.65, or an average of $36.44 per pound. Sales for the week ending February 14, 1933, totaled $1,506,714.95 for an average of $33.44.

WOMAN'S UNION PRAYER MEETING

The Woman's Union Prayer Meeting will meet with Mrs. C. M. Hundley, 664 Jefferson street this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The meeting will be led by Mrs. J. R. Coleman who will take her subject from the sixth chapter of Romans.

—Mrs. O. J. Marchand, daughter of J. H. Dickerson, underwent an operation at the General hospital this morning.

VITAL FACTS FOR WOMEN

Sooner or later almost every woman is brought face to face with the fact that she is a victim of some weakness or ailment peculiar to her. It may be the young woman suffering from pain or irregularities, a mother who has brought on some weakness or displacement from overwork, or the middle-aged woman passing through the most critical period of her life. For each of these trying periods Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved the greatest boon ever given to women, and there are women today in every town and city in the country who testify to its value.—adv.

WIFE HELPS ELECT HUSBY.

"After having been in bed half the time for a year with severe pains in my right side over the appendix stomach trouble and bloating, which the doctor seemed unable to reach with medicine, and advised operation as the only remedy, my nurse advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy, and its results have truly been wonderful. I am now entirely well and strong, and at the last election worked hard to elect my husband." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Says—Now Stiff Joints Must Go!

New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases.

Yes, it's true—the world progresses. All you have to do nowadays to limber up that stiff, rusty knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle working substance from a tube.

Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy.

Then read the evening newspapers and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose its "creak" while you are dreaming about the high fences you used to leap when you were a youngster.

"And in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump back over your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint Ease: They call this wonderful working substance for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint, or reduce the swelling, Joint Ease succeeds.

It's a good name for a good, clean, reliable preparation. In a few months has proven to be a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.

But Joint Ease is for both knees and joints, whether in knee, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale is immense.

All druggists have a big supply of it and druggists everywhere report a big demand.—adv.

DEDUCTIONS ON AUTOS ALLOWED ON INCOME TAX

Deductions allowed taxpayers in connection with the maintenance and operation of automobiles are the subject of frequent inquiries from taxpayers in filing an income tax return. The following is for the guidance of owners and prospective owners.

Such cost—for garage bills, gasoline, repairs, etc.—may be deducted as a business expense when an automobile is used wholly for business purposes, or in trade, profession, or farming. When used partly for such purposes and partly for the pleasure or convenience of the taxpayer and his family, the cost may be prorated and that part attributable to business use, the other portions mentioned deducted as a business expense.

The same rule applies with regard to the deduction for depreciation, which is allowed when an automobile is used wholly in business, trade, profession, or farming, and when purchased according to when used partly for such purposes and partly for pleasure. If an automobile is a deduction for depreciation is not used almost exclusively for pleasure allowed.

The purchase price of an automobile when used wholly in business, cannot be deducted from gross income. It is a capital expenditure, deduction of which is expressly disallowed by the revenue act. The 5 per cent tax which attaches to the sale of an automobile cannot be deducted by the purchaser, because it is a tax levied on the sale by the manufacturer, and must be returned and paid by him. The manufacturer may reimburse himself in the amount of the tax by agreement with the purchaser, in manner prescribed by Treasury regulations. So, if the purchaser is concerned, the tax is a part of the cost to him of the automobile. The manufacturer may not deduct the tax in his return, unless the amount is included in his gross income.

An automobile license fee is regarded as an expense which may be deducted whether the automobile is used for business or for pleasure or convenience.

In the event of a collision between a truck and an automobile used for pleasure or convenience, the owner of the truck may deduct the amount for damages to the truck being used for business at the time of the collision. No deductions are allowed the owner of the automobile, because it was not being used for business purposes. Amounts expended by owners of automobiles used for pleasure or convenience in repairing damages there to caused by negligent operation do not constitute deductible losses.

Taxpayers are advised not to delay in the filing of their returns. To do so results in confusion and congestion during the closing days of the filing period, which ends at midnight of March 15.

MEETING OF H-Y CLUB WEDNESDAY

The H-Y club held an enthusiastic meeting yesterday afternoon in the boys' quarters at the Y. M. C. A. at which new committee chairman were elected and other important business taken up.

Officers of the club to date consist of John Weber, president and Russell Myers, Hinton Gwynn, Marvin Watson, Hoffman Culppepper and Kerr Farley.

Plans for extension and for having some quarters for the club were under discussion. Weber, Watson and Culppepper were selected as the new constitution committee. Russell Myers was appointed chairman of the parliamentary committee; Kerr Farley chairman of the new Bible committee; John Weber chairman of the board committee; Hinton Gwynn chairman of the membership committee and Hoffman Culppepper chairman of the activity committee.

Plans were discussed to raise the membership quota to twenty five members.

Three campaigns will be conducted during the coming spring. The first in March will be known as the "school spirit" campaign. The second in April as the "anti-cursing" campaign and the third in May the "anti-cheating" campaign.

DEATH OF SAMUEL FARSON

SPRING GARDEN, VA., Feb. 7.—The funeral of Mr. Samuel Farson, of Java, was held yesterday afternoon at his late home, at Riceville. Deceased, aged 37, died Tuesday afternoon after a brief illness from pneumonia.

The funeral was largely attended in spite of the wintry weather. Pastor R. W. Grizzard, of the Riceville church, conducted the obsequies, and interment was at the old home. Deceased was a faithful member of the Riceville Baptist church and a most deserving, useful and worthy citizen. He is survived by a widow, two sons, four daughters, two brothers and a sister. The children are young.

EX-CONVICTS BACKSLIDE

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Joseph "Yellow Kid" Well and Fred Buckminster, known to the police as two of the slickest confidence men in the country, who told the world of their reformation when released from prison were indicted here today charged with swindling George W. Malcolmson, a wealthy Detroit coal merchant, out of $30,000 in a copper transaction last December.

MARITAL TROUBLES OF PASTOR ENTERS THE LELAND CASE

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

YONKERS, N. Y., Feb. 7.—The marital troubles of the Rev. George D. Adams, pastor of the Baptist church here, today were brought in to the divorce proceedings against Mrs. Charlotte Leland, of Oak Park, Ill., in which the Rev. Dr. Adams is charged with adultery.

Investigators for the Lelands today called on the Rev. Adams whose divorce at Mount Vernon in 1921, on a charge of adultery, caused his wife to attempt suicide. The name of the "other man" in the Adams divorce was never made public. Attorney Moss, representing Leland, today refused to say why they had called on the Rev. Adams.

The Adams were divorced on March 3, 1921, following a private hearing before Referee Stephen Williams, who was appointed to hear the case by Supreme Court Justice Finch. The Rev. Adams at this time was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Mount Vernon. On August 1, 1921, Adams was married again, this time to Mrs. Cora Leland, widow of Henry B. Lippincott.

On October 17, 1921, the Rev. Adams in a dramatic scene before the congregation of his church tendered his resignation from the Mount Vernon pastorate to take effect January 1, 1922. In citing reasons for his resignation the pastor declared that he was shielding "two high in the service of the Master."

"Some day the facts will all be perfect," he announced. "I seem to stand before you an untruthful man. Almighty God knows I am not. My lips have been sealed; I am shielding persons high in the service of the Master. I have to go. I would have to step down and out if I spoke."

"I need no defense. Do not follow me into some other undertaking with unkind words. I have to do what I have been doing. I am not going to sit down."

Next to me sat a youngster, hardly over 22, swarthy in appearance and not bad looking. He was sitting around swapping stories with an older man who had just got back from Sing Sing.

The police have been looking for this boy for more than a year. He is a Dutch-houseman, who pulled off a particularly daring flat robbery, in which a beginner was caught. The police grumbled their victim; they promised him immunity if he would tell who his Fagin was. But the boy was loyal to his mob. He took his medicine like an old-timer, served his time in the reformatory and came out—hardened for other enterprises.

Not all the gang was there. Part of it was "laying low" for there had been a murder on a neighboring street a few nights ago, and the police had their suspicions. But nobody was doing any telling—although nearly everybody knew.

"Guys, I'll have to start making an easy dollar myself pretty soon," confided the youthful Fagin. "I'm getting restless and my broad is getting restless."

So he went on whispering with his more experienced companion—getting a line on a new enterprise. He apologized for not talking much to me.

"Business before pleasure, you know," he said smiling.

HENRY COUNTY'S FIRST FARMERS' INSTITUTE PLANS

MARTINSVILLE, Feb. 7.—A Henry County Farmers' Institute is to be held on Thursday and Friday, February 14 and 15, at the Agricultural High school, Axton.

Farmers and farmers' wives are especially urged to attend as there will be able speakers to talk on subjects relating to farm and home economics and community building.

This institute has been long needed, but due to the fact that there was in the county no suitable building adequately equipped for giving instruction, this will be Henry county's first Farmers' Institute.

Axon, proudly boasts of the only Smith-Hughes Agricultural High school in the county. The handsome brick building was completed in the early fall and specially equipped with agricultural laboratory, workshops, manual training tools, home economics quarters. Axton is especially fortunate in having such instructors as C. H. Kelly, principal of the school, and Miss Kagey, teacher of home economics.

The program for the institute on Thursday and Friday includes instruction in fertilizing, pruning of trees, terracing, poultry, and home economics.

Mrs. F. C. Beverly, the woman who made Whittell, will talk on community building, a subject in which every parent, teacher, and citizen of Henry county is interested. Mrs. Beverly is a farm woman, a farmer's wife, and the principal of a farm-life school, which has gained national recognition as a community center.

A. L. Dean, State poultry specialist, will be present to take charge of the poultry program and promises an interesting talk thereon.

The Axton Home Demonstration club with Mrs. May Campbell, county home demonstrator, will furnish luncheon on both Thursday and Friday, and the home economics of the Axton High school will serve it.

CHESBRO TO COACH WASHINGTON HURLERS

(Chicago Tribune Service.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Jack Chesbro, one time star pitcher of the American League and baseball coach at Harvard University, has accepted the offer of Clark Griffith to coach the Washington pitchers. This will be announced by the Senators tomorrow.

Chesbro and Griffith were involved in a controversy over the signing of Griffith to coach the Senators. During the schedule meeting in Boston yesterday, the pair held several conferences, and soon reached an understanding. Chesbro, it is thought, will be of great service to the Senators.

II—BUSINESS BEFORE PLEASURE

"BUSINESS BEFORE PLEASURE, YOU KNOW."

Directly across town in the East Side are the hangouts of gangsters of another type. They are the gangsters from whose ranks some of the greatest figures in all mobdom have arisen—Lefty Louie, Kid Dropper, and a host of others.

They are scattered all over—in restaurants, club rooms, candy stores and flats. But their chief joint is the pool-room.

In a basement, heavy with smoke and lined with on-lookers, are the gangsters at play. They scarcely look up from their tables; yet they seem to see and hear everything. A footstep unknown causes a stir. But it doesn't stop the game. It just changes its pace.

A few words of greeting, and exchange of names, and I was invited to sit down.

Next to me sat a youngster, hardly over 22, swarthy in appearance and not bad looking. He was sitting around swapping stories with an older man who had just got back from Sing Sing.

The police have been looking for this boy for more than a year. He is a Dutch-houseman, who pulled off a particularly daring flat robbery, in which a beginner was caught. LOCAL OFFICERS CAPTURE LIQUOR CAR ON UNION ST.

Last night S. J. Fesperman, giving his home as Raleigh, N. C., was captured on Union street with four 5-gallon cans of whiskey in a Ford touring car and a pint on his person. Sergeant J. H. Martin and Patrolmen Mayberry and Bates made the capture.

Fesperman had on his person, in addition to the pint of moonshine, a Savage automatic pistol containing seven steel-jacketed bullets. The officers, having suspected Fesperman, stepped in front of his car and endeavored to stop him. Fesperman began backing his car away from the officers and Patrolman O. S. Mayberry jumped to the running board of the machine. Fesperman knocked him to the ground and made an effort to draw his pistol, when Sergeant Martin intervened and broke up the move. Having offered such stiff resistance to the officers and having a gun on his person in addition to hauling liquor causes a charge of felony to be lodged against Fesperman.

"MASSACRE TROOPS" MOVED TO MOSCOW TO REPLACE REDS

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

BERLIN, Feb. 7.—Several regiments of Tartars and Letts, who during the Russian reign of terror were used as "massacre troops" have been moved to Moscow to replace Red troops loyal to Leon Trotsky in the split between the former commander in chief and the Soviet commissars.

The Tribune learns today from Moscow that 12,000 troops of the Moscow garrison revolted on January 21, and that the affair was only put down with difficulty. When M. Djerzinski, of fomenting revolt, was called before the commissars he quarreled severely with Zinoviev, president of the third international, and slapped his face.

The first instructions were to arrest M. Trotsky, but the commissars were certain that the garrison would rise and reverse their decision. M. Trotsky left the day following the late Premier Lenin's funeral for exile in Southern, a small town on the Black Sea coast near Batum. About half the accompanying officials were sent to watch him, while the others were his friends.

It is connected with the new revolt which is beginning to make its appearance in Moscow. M. Trotsky sent three agents to interview Grand Duke Nikolai. In Paris while other Red army groups dispatched Colonel Arzamasov and Captain Podgorski to offer a military dictatorship to Grand Duke Andre.

In the meantime M. Djerzinski, that sinister figure of the days of terrorism, who was only put down with difficulty for public economy, has made himself actual dictator in Moscow.

PAPER DENOUNCES OFFICIAL ACTION AS FOOLHARDY

(Associated Press Local Wire.)

BERLIN, Feb. 7.—The Vorwarts denounces as foolish the instructions of the German foreign office to Ambassador Weidfeldt not to take official recognition of Mr. Wilson's death.

"Fear controls," says this paper, "fear of nationalistic wrath, bucklers fear of Bavarian beer hall politicians and of reaction in uniform as well as in civilian clothes. Germany indeed has reason to fly its flag at half mast in the face of this tragedy of which the Washington flag incident is only a part."

ELECTROCUTION BECOMES METHOD OF EXECUTION IN TEXAS REPLACING HANGING

Five Negroes Put to Death in Chair For Murder—Warden Resigns Rather Than Act as Executioner.

(By The Associated Press.)
HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Feb. 8.—Election became the method of execution in Texas early today when five negroes were put to death in the electric chair in the state penitentiary.

A last minute effort was made to save the life of one of the negroes, Melvin Johnson. An hour's stay of execution was granted by Prison Commissioner Walter Sayles in order to allow E. H. Love, his attorney, to get in telephone communication with Acting Governor T. W. Davidson, in an attempt to obtain a reprieve. It failed.

The other negroes executed were Charles Reynolds, Elwell Morris, George Washington and Mack Harris.

Reynolds was brought from his cell in the death block at nine minutes after midnight and escorted into the glare of the execution room, hooded, blinking between the guards.

He was strapped into the chair and a moment later his body stiffened against the stout leather straps as Warden Walter Monroe Miller threw the switch which sent 2,500 volts, 13 pimps of electricity into his body.

Morris, Washington and Mathews followed Reynolds to the chair in the order named. The last of the four was pronounced dead at 1:07.

While the five negroes were the first condemned men to be executed, several white men were to be hanged within the next three months.

The law changing the legal mode of imposing the death penalty from hanging to electrocution was passed at the last regular session of the State legislature in August last.

Reynolds, 27, was convicted of murder and sentenced to death for the killing of a white man; Morris, 33, was convicted for the killing of a white man; Johnson, 19, was convicted for the slaying of a negro woman; and Washington, 38, for the death of a negro man; Mathews, 53, was sentenced to death upon conviction of killing his wife.

Governor Neff had granted several reprieves in the case of each man except Reynolds because of the delay incident to the installation of the electric chair and the obtaining of a warden after the resignation of R. F. Coleman. He declined to perform the duty of executioner imposed upon him by law.

L. H. Irwin, representative from Dallas county, and author of the bill substituting electrocution for hanging, expressed satisfaction over the first executions. "It is more human," Irwin commented.

Representative Irwin announced that he would be introduced in the next legislature to abolish capital punishment in Texas.

WARDEN RESIGNED RATHER THAN BE EXECUTIONER

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Feb. 8.—While Walter Monroe Miller, new warden of the Texas Penitentiary, was officiating at the electrocutions of five negroes early today, the former warden, R. F. Coleman, peacefully slept at his home here because he chose to follow the dictates of his conscience. He resigned the post of warden last month when it became known that he would have to act as executioner in all death sentences in Texas.

The state was searched for a successor. Miller, former sheriff of Johnson county, finally was decided upon. He accepted in time to assume his duties which prescribed that he shall throw the switch at all electrocutions.

"It just couldn't be done, boys," former Warden Coleman told newspaper men.

"A warden can't be warden and killer too. The penitentiary is a place to reform a man, not to kill him."

TERRA BLANCA SCENE OF NEXT REBEL BATTLE

Believed to Be Last Important Fight Insurgents Will Put Up.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 7.—The Terra Blanca, state of Vera Cruz, it is believed is the scene of the last important battle of the rebels against the city of Vera Cruz, which has been in the hands of the rebels since the outbreak of the revolution. The rebels are reported concentrating at Terra Blanca.

The federal march against Vera Cruz is being delayed owing partly to the destroying of a bridge at Oaxaca and to a desire on the part of General Martinez to avoid the danger of a rebel attack on his rear. For this purpose he has dispatched part of his army to Terra Blanca. However, General Urbaljo, cavalry is reported advancing on Vera Cruz and the war department is awaiting announcement from him that he has occupied the post.

The whereabouts of General Adolfo de la Huerta, who with other rebel leaders who fled from Vera Cruz, still are unknown. General Gomez, military commander here, announced the receipt of reports from Merida, Yucatan, that the rebel general had arrived there while Tampico reports a rebel warship had appeared near Tuxpan.

But with Warden Miller, it was different.

"It's a case of duty with me," he said. "I have hanged several men while I was a sheriff and to touch the button of an electric chair means no more to me than pulling the lever of the gallows. At any rate, it's more humane the chair."

Coleman is now proprietor of a hotel here. He has been warden for ten years but his term did not run consecutively.

Ford Expresses Attitude Toward Denby and Oil Case

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 8.—The senate committee investigating the Teapot Dome leases "might do well to look into the attitude of our attitude toward the Mexican difficulty," Henry Ford said today in a statement.

Mr. Ford's statement, issued in answer to a request of the Michigan Citizens in urging a fair deal for Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy, and the Detroit mid.

"I have been asked to join other citizens in Michigan in securing a fair deal for Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy. It is alleged here that because he has been political influence than other members of the government a pretext may be sought to make him a scapegoat. My reply has been that I am sure that we can repose full confidence in President Coolidge's sense of justice, which will not permit him to condemn any man without just cause, nor injure any man's reputation without good reason. The senate, also, without doubt, will accord credit to the naval oil and opportunity for fair defense. No one in Michigan who knows Mr. Denby has ever believed him capable of personal dishonesty in public or private affairs. His statement, however, should be construed as desiring in any way to limit or weaken the investigation now in progress. Let the investigation proceed without personal or partisan fear of failure until all the facts are disclosed. It is not enough to know who are the persons concerned. If the investigation is pushed beyond surface facts, more than personal rights in the naval oil reserves will be recovered; we may also gain a knowledge of what inspires weakness in public office."

The dangerous element in this matter is not alone the grave danger to the lives of individuals, but their readiness to weaken the country's defense by giving up the navy's fuel to private exploitation. The committee might also do well to consider the possibility of a connection between oil interests and our attitude toward the Mexican difficulty."

Dance Taught Jap Factory Maidens

OSAKA, Japan, Feb. 8.—A mode of recreation for factory girls which goes the Japanese factory reformer one better has recently been announced here. In addition to building an enlarged factory and providing facilities within the building for the good of its employees, the Toyo Spinning Company has recently decided that its hundreds of women employees must study Western dancing in the grounds of the factory for recreation and to "improve their health and morality."

Before the dancing classes, held in recreation hours during the daytime, were organized, so the report goes, the girls were given quarters where they would sing Japanese songs that the management of the factory called "trashy." They sought amusement wherever it might be found, and as a result, today the management of the factory employs professional teachers to explain the difficult steps of the Western dances. Approximately 1,200 girls are now enjoying this form of recreation in the Toyo Spinning Mills and in other factories near Osaka.

Good Morning Judge!

Various charges against S. J. Feenerman, who early this morning gave three police officers, who were attempting to arrest him, much trouble, were this morning continued indefinitely. The man in charge with violating transporting whiskey, driving a car while drunk and having concealed weapons. The man was charged with violating the traffic ordinance was continued.

A charge of disturbance against John W. Burns was dismissed at payment of costs.

L. E. Rogers was given thirty days in jail and fined $11 and costs on a charge of violating the liquor law.

DAUGHERTY PUTS HEART INTO WORDS IN PRAISE OF WILSON

(By ROBERT T. SMALL, Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 8.—Saying the solitude which has been his since he came to Miami Beach is little more than a week ago, Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty ventured out into the world of affairs to pay the tribute of a lawyer to the memory of Woodrow Wilson, for whom services were held in the Miami court house.

It was the sort of thing Harry M. Daugherty felt that his old chief would do. If Warren G. Harding had been alive, Harry Daugherty knew that he would have been among the first to bespeak the greatness and valor of a fallen foe. And so, Harry Daugherty, member of a republican cabinet, and a believer in partisanship, was the outstanding figure at a remarkable meeting called here in honor of the dead ex-president.

It was an interesting experience for Mr. Daugherty. Of late, he has felt more or less that every man's hand has been raised against him. As this memorial meeting he found every man's hand raised to greet of Woodrow Wilson there was a wild rush. After he had spoken his eulogy, he was to shake hands with the supreme law officer of the reigning administration of Washington and it took the best efforts of "Big Bill" Edwards of New York, ex-collector of Internal Revenue and ex-football player, to rescue the attorney-general from the onslaught of friends.

"Big Bill" also spoke. He was a part and parcel of the Wilson administration. Harry Daugherty was not. As the personal representative of Warren Harding he plotted the downfall of the Wilson administration and the turning out of office of all Democrats, good and bad. Yet, Harry Daugherty today an officer of government, felt it to be both a duty and a privilege to pay his meed to the dead Woodrow Wilson, son-in-law, son of the United States.

Mr. Daugherty showed much emotion as he spoke. He communicated much of his mind to his hearers and audience were holding andkerchiefs to their eyes.

Mr. Daugherty spoke himself as a man harassed. He too, has known the bitterness of political attack and personal antagonism. Mr. Daugherty has known also the all but helpless feeling of physical disability in the heat of the battle, so he put his heart into his words when he said: "Only death, that final tragedy, makes it possible to measure a man according to his merits. In the great whirlwind of human effort, the restlessness of humanity and the envious spirit, the modern critic, often biased and personal in his criticism, loses his calling when the final tragedy comes, and justly, deliberate and honest civilization begins to take worthy account of the man."

Mr. Daugherty said that while he differed with many of Mr. Wilson's views, he had never indulged in personal criticism or recrimination. He said he had nothing to take back against Woodrow Wilson, but much to say of the man.

"But," added the attorney-general, "whether men agreed with him or not, Mr. Wilson's good conscience and courage were never doubted. No man can have courage unless he possesses that essential thing, a correct conscience. Give us in this country men actuated by good conscience and courage, and the traditions of America's secure, civilization is not in jeopardy, patriotism will survive and our country, the most attractive, the most powerful and in all respects the freest, safest, proudest and most unselfish never so much as tremble on its foundations."

Mr. Daugherty is showing much improvement as a result of his vacation and his removal from the turmoil of things in Washington. He has been fishing in the Gulf stream, has encountered a number of old friends here, and declaring himself of good "conscience," he will "carry on" to the end.

Samuel Broker Sues Real Estate Firm For $10,000

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Edith McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., with Edwin Krenn and Edward Dato, her partners in a real estate firm, are made defendants in a suit for $10,000 damages filed by Samuel E. Broker, consulting engineer and accountant, according to the Chicago Herald and Examiner.

According to the newspaper, the declaration states that last September Broker was employed by the defendants to devise a method to form a tax trust organization in which Mrs. McCormick might invest $15,000,000 in stocks and bonds. Broker conceived the idea of forming a "common law trust" which would obviate the necessity of paying federal taxes and Mrs. McCormick contributed $5,232,000 and Krenn and Dato $1,500 each to the trust, the declaration alleges.

Broker claims he was to receive $100 a day for his services and, in addition, a sum commensurate with the amount of the tax saved. He received the $100 a day and $1,250, he says, but contends he should have been paid $8,250.

W. Banks Millner Dies In Richmond

Word was received here today of the death in Richmond this morning of W. Banks Millner, 75, a former resident of this city many years ago. The older citizens of Danville will remember pleasantly Banks Millner, by which name he was best known. He was the son of William Banks Millner and Mary Ellen Millner.

The remains will be brought to Danville tomorrow morning and the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Hughes, Main street, the services to be conducted by Rev. T. A. Smoot. Interment will be made in Greenhill cemetery.

North Carolina's Wealth Increases 175 P. C. In 10 Yrs.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—North Carolina's wealth, as measured by three quarterly times more at the end of 1923 than it was in 1912, having had the largest increase in wealth in the ten year period of any state for which is thus far has been issued, it was announced by the census bureau.

The state's wealth was $4,543,110,000, an increase of 175.7 per cent. with a per capita wealth of $1,703, an increase of 133.2 per cent.

Prince of Wales Thrown by Horse; Breaks Collar Bone

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
LONDON, Feb. 8.—The Prince of Wales broke his collar bone while exercising one of his hunters at Billington Manor, near Ascot this morning. The prince was putting his mount over a fence when the horse fell, throwing his rider heavily on his shoulder. The prince got up and was remounting with difficulty which his querry said "I believe you've broken your collar bone."

"Yes I have," Wales replied.

The prince was taken to the surgery at Leighton Buzzard, where he received treatment and was driven back to Mentmore Mansion. He wore no collar when he emerged from the surgery and his shoulder was in bandages, but he was still smiling.

Wales had 18 hunters at Leighton Buzzard and was expecting to do much hunting with the Waddon Chase hounds. He had gone overnight to Mentmore Mansion with Lord Dalmeney, prior to the meet of the Waddon Chase this morning at Ascot. He was astir early, taking several hunters over to Billington Manor, the possibility of Sir Richard Cooper, to give them a preliminary gallop. It was while putting his mount over a fence that the accident happened.

The prince probably will return to London at about noon today. An official statement says to collarbone was broken "about as slightly as is possible."

The prince of Wales is a great lover of horse flesh and has frequently been thrown but has always escaped serious injury. In addition to following the hounds, he is keen on racing, both on the flat and over the jumps, and has taken part in several successful professional jockey, although with indifferent success.

Mellon Answers More Charges as to Bond Duplications

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Secretary Mellon, answering another of the series of charges made in the general bond duplications inquiries by Charles E. Brewer, department of justice attorney, declared the difficulty in type and style of some of the bonds was due to addition of new numbering machines to the bureau engraving equipment during the war. Mr. Mellon said: "The bureau equipment had been altered little in thirty years prior to the war. Mr. Mellon said: 'The piece of equipment had been standardized so that when the exigencies arose the treasury failed to find equipment fitted with the same type and style of numerals carried by the old machines.'

POLLY AND HER PALS

Pa's Broad-minded As To Beauty

What's Going on in the World

WEEK'S CHIEF EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Woodrow Wilson is dead, aged 68— not so very old. His illness, or rather breakdown, dates back to the latter part of his term as president, when he succumbed to the tremendous strain of office, aggravated by problems of the war and the still more trying experiences of the peace conference.

Fall Won't Talk

Declaring he didn't have to incriminate himself, Albert B. Fall refused to figure as a witness in the Teapot Dome-Elliott investigation. The senatorial investigation called him before them, but that was all he said.

Denby and Daugherty

Secretary of the navy Denby is bitterly fighting political opponents, for letting the oil lands go. It is asserted he hadn't even a right to do so, without Congressional approval. He refuses, however, to resign under fire. Besides, he says the government got a good bargain and he'd do the same thing again. President Coolidge beat the Senate to a resolution demanding that the investigation be taken out of Attorney General Daugherty's hands, he chose T. W. Gregory, President Wilson's attorney general, and S. H. Strawn, a Republican lawyer, to take up the work.

Democrats Mentioned

But a little later the White House issued a statement indicating Gregory had been employed by Daugherty since leaving the cabinet, so he wouldn't do and ex-Senator Pomerene was named in his place. Furthermore, Doheny now testifies he has paid $250,000 for legal advice to the law firm W. G. McAduff was a member of. He says another of his lawyers was the late Franklin K. Lane, Wilson's secretary of the interior. He adds that, indirectly, he has employed Lindley M. Garrison, a Wilson secretary of war; likewise George Creel, director of government publicity during the war. All this was after the men referred to had retired from office. Finally, Denby's friends declare he had, too, a right to lease the oil lands without Congressional approval, that Josephus Daniels established the precedent when he was Wilson's secretary of the navy.

Wets and Drys

New York State Superintendent W. H. Anderson of the Anti-Saloon League has been convicted of third degree forgery (which means "fixing" account books to hide a theft). It was charged he took $25,000 of the league's money. According to his story it was his own cash he loaned to the league. Asked how he got so much money, he said it was a present from one John T. King and that Henry Mann spent it for dry publicity, but no such persons as King or Mann could be found. The thing is a forgery the punishment is up to five years in prison, but Anderson appealed.

Germany's Troubles

Chances see improving for success of the financial experts' committee.

led, headed by Charles G. Dawes, which is trying to put Germany on a cash-paying basis. It was feared Premier Poincare of France would block any plan the committee might suggest but Poincare's influence waned. Since France seized the Ruhr (she did so at Poincare's order), French debts have increased heavily. French money is worth much less than it was. French living costs have risen. French taxes must advance, no reparations are in sight. This has diminished French confidence in Poincare.

To give Germany some real money awes aims to open a German gold bank. If it guarantees safety and good dividends, he thinks it will get Germans' private hoards. To help matters along, the German government has canceled the government's war debts, which it can do since Germany raised her war funds mostly at home, not abroad.

Here and There

The new Labor cabinet in England has taken its first important step, in recognizing the soviet government of Russia.

Recent fighting in Mexico has slightly favored the President, Oregon against the rebels, but there's been nothing decisive yet. American warships lie off Vera Cruz. They started to leave but Secretary Denby ordered them back. Alexis Ivanovitch Rykoff steps into former Nikolai Lenin's shoes as head of the Council of Commissars and practical dictator of Russia.

"On the other hand, we should not overlook the soft coal fields as the possible scene of industrial difficulties this spring. Though the latest tendencies have been somewhat more favorable from a sales standpoint, the labor outlook is rather important."

Mr. Babson was asked why New York during recent months, and Pennsylvania at present, are not making so good a showing as many other parts of the country.

"The main reason," he replied, "is that New York and Pennsylvania are so largely industrial, as indicated by the statistics which I have already quoted. Experience shows that the industrial areas of the Northeast are quick on the trigger. When business dips down (either a minor or a major movement) this is the first territory to slip. Therefore, in a period like the present, the manufacturing centers are working cautiously. This is especially important in view of increasing European competition. For the time being, at least, many of these industrial localities can suffer further curtailment and still have an advantage over the farming, live-stock, and mining sections. There is a difference, however, in manufacturing centers. Generally speaking, manufacturing can be divided into two groups. Consumption goods (such as boots and shoes) and basic materials (such as lumber). Statistics show that consumption goods in general tend to reach a high point of a low point from three to six months in advance of the corresponding swing in the manufacture of basic materials. For example, a peak in the manufacture of consumption goods occurred in October, 1923. A peak in the manufacture of basic materials did not occur until three months later, in January, 1924. A low point in the manufacture of consumption goods occurred in January, 1924. A low point in the manufacture of basic materials did not occur until six months later, in July, 1924.

In summarizing the situation in this section, Mr. Babson brought out these three rather interesting points: "1.—There will be but few wage advances during 1924 in New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland and the Virginias. Wage advances, of course, are a direct and powerful stimulus to business. In fact, some directors of sales regard them as one of the most important guides to a locality's buying power, especially if their merchandise is of a kind that appeals particularly to the industrial wage earner. During 1923 it will probably be difficult to find many localities where wages are being advanced. At best, they are likely to remain at about on a level, and in many places moderate reduction will probably be witnessed. Among the localities in which wage increases of various amounts have recently come to attention, there can be listed Steelton, Pa.; Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Carbondale, Pa.; Baltimore, Md.; Morgantown, W. Va.; Fairmont, W. Va.; Binghamton, N. Y.; Syracuse, N. Y.; and Buffalo, N. Y.

"2.—Any legislation resulting in a reduction of Federal Tax would be beneficial to these North Atlantic states which pay—or rather 'collect'—about one-half the total taxes of the Government. Reduction of taxes would be a boon to practically every type of locality. The point, which many overlook is the division of these beneficiaries into three distinct groups. First, there is the younger city or town, which has been bending every energy toward local development and new industries. Such programs have been seriously handicapped by the tendency of capital to shun tax-infested industries. Undoubtedly many of the smaller cities in this group of states have suffered from this. Second, there is the older locality. This has been damaged not only by the attitude of capital but by the loss of labor. Labor has been diverted into more profitable fields directly productive. Third, there is the rural community that has succumbed to temptation and saddled itself with mountains of debt because bond issues have been easy to get across. With reduction of program rigorously carried out, all these groups of localities will get a new lease of life, and new business opportunities will be created. If business needs any one tonic, it is a tax reduction.

"3.—Newspaper and magazine advertising play a very important part in the activities of this section. A careful comparison of the volume of advertising in some of the important cities of these states indicates an interesting relation between advertising and the trend of local business. Newspaper advertising surely increases as local business declines. In fact, you can almost take the statistics of a locality's newspaper advertising as a measurement of the trend of its business. For example, the figures indicate that both newspaper advertising and business are increasing almost in unison in Scranton, Philadelphia and Rochester.

With general business running about 3 per cent above normal, as indicated by the current position of the Babsonchart, it is probable that the North Atlantic District is running slightly under normal," concluded Mr. Babson. "But no definite trend in one way or the other is indicated in this section. The situation is fairly well balanced and will bear close watching."

Some people who are continually hunting for something "with a kick" are liable to get it very unexpectedly.

There is a minister shortage, especially in their pockets.

Fido Runs Around With the Chickens.

Some Essington (Pa.) bootlegger dumped a quantity of prune mash on a vacant lot. A dog and a flock of chickens proceeded to do what the law says don't.

The dog's owner claims the pup danced on his hind legs, chased the cat and jumped out a second-story window. Then the chickens joined in. The barnyard sounded like a jazz orchestra.

That's the way with an old dog. He gets a few drinks and then runs around with the chickens.

SPORTS

Plane skiing is a new sport in Slovenia. It is even more thrilling than fancy skiing. The planes have runners instead of wheels. That's one difference. Another difference is you are more liable to break your neck. Skiing is very popular in Washington, many politicians having the skids put under them.

GREAT BRITAIN'S RECOGNITION OF RUSSIA COMPLETE

BY JOHN STEELE

(By Chicago Tribune Service.) LONDON, Feb. 7.—The recognition of Russia by Great Britain is complete, Premier MacDonald in an interview in this morning's Manchester Daily Dispatch, one of the group of Hulton papers taken over by Lord Rothermere.

"There is no quibble about it," added MacDonald. "We have given Russia our formal recognition."

Both Germany and Russia declares the prime minister, must be admitted to membership in the League of Nations. There will be no difficulty in the case of Russia, he thinks, but "Germany's inclusion must be insisted upon. She must receive full and complete recognition, on equal terms, as a member of the league."

"Are not objections likely to be made by France?" his interviewer asked.

"No," replied MacDonald. "I believe Germany will be accepted as a member of the league and that no insurmountable difficulty will be encountered."

In a discussion of British relations with the French government, the prime minister expressed the view that the hesitating, negative attitude of the British government heretofore had been mainly responsible for past misunderstandings.

"All that's gone," he declared. "Great Britain will no longer be content to sit and watch events. The result of this new attitude seems to be succeeding beyond all expectations."

MacDonald ridiculed the gloomy prognostications of falling security prices and general financial gloom when Labor swept into power. Securities, he pointed out, were advancing the price, and the business world was looking forward to a period of stability with great relief.

CONFESSES THAT HE KILLED GIRL WHO REPULSED ADVANCES

(By The Associated Press.)

WINCHESTER, Va., Feb. 7.—Jack Pierce, 25, confessed this afternoon, according to police, that he murdered Florence Nitzman, Canton telephone operator, whose body was found in a small stream near that city a week ago.

Pierce, who was taken to Canton late today by police officials under Safety Director E. E. Curtis, of that city, was said by Chief Henry Lerner of the local police force to have admitted that he took Miss Nitzman into the country and killed her when she resisted his advances. Pierce's face and hands, the chief said, were badly scratched.

He arrived here yesterday and first attracted attention when he fainted in a restaurant and was taken to a hospital from which he was released today. Suspicious of his actions, local authorities notified Canton police who arrived this afternoon and took the man to Canton for further examination.

CARRY WOMAN ON RAILWAY ON A COAT

(By The Associated Press.)

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 7.—Twenty-eight men, working in relays, were requested to carry Mrs. Ray Freemy on a coat from Exford, a remote section of Ritchie county, to the railroad station at Toll Gate, in order that she might be brought to a hospital here. It was necessary that she be removed to the hospital at once. Mrs. Freemy suffered from exposure but the hospital physician said today that she would recover.

HEIR TO $75,000,000 KEEPS ON WORKING

SON OF COUNT LANOVILLE, HEIR TO $75,000,000

MARRIED INDIAN AT ROUSE POINT, N.Y.

JOSEPH LANOVILLE, 54-YEAR-OLD HEIR TO 174-YEAR-OLD BEACON OF $75,000,000, AND HIS HOME

BY SETEV EHANNAGAN

COTTESVILLE, N. J., Feb. 8.—Sitting by the kitchen stove placidly stirring a pan of lamb stew, Joseph Lanoville, 54-year-old heir to $75,000,000 legacy in France, seemed to be little concerned with his new-found fortune.

"I'll give most of it to the poor," he said, "not through religious organizations, but to the people I find in need as I travel about."

Born in New York state, Lanoville struck the trail that led to his gold while he was in France during the war, as an officer in the United States Army.

Told of a French legend of an enormous legacy awaiting the heirs of Count Anthony Lanoville of France, he began an investigation.

It culminated a few days ago when a French attorney appeared at Lanoville's humble but comfortable home in this village in Jersey 30 minutes by trolley off the beaten path of the world's mad rush.

$10,000,000 Fortune Grew to Be $75,000,000

The French barrister assured Lanoville that his claim to the fortune is well founded.

For five generations—174 years—the $10,000,000 estate bequeathed by Count Lanoville to his only son has been doubling and tripling in value as the interest was compounded and the search for the heir went on.

DREAM IS WORTH $117 TO FARMER

(By The Associated Press.)

WINCHESTER, Va., Feb. 7.—Mrs. George Pope, wife of a Frederick county farmer, dreamed a dream last night and today Pope is $117 "winner."

Pope lost his pocketbook several weeks ago and searching for it high and low how he might, he could not find it. Mrs. Pope shared his distress over the misfortune.

And then last night Pope said today, his wife dreamed she saw the pocketbook "lying near some bushes in the garden." Awakening, she told her husband what she had seen in her sleep. Pope laughed and ridiculed his wife—then went to the spot she had indicated.

He found the pocketbook with its $117 in currency damp and mouldy, but still looking "mighty good" to him.

Joseph Lanoville off to France to claim $75,000,000 fortune left by Count.

Count Lanoville's son was kidnapped, brought to America and later married an Indian girl. Now, after five generations, Joseph Lanoville is believed to be the eldest living heir.

To him goes the fortune. He leaves for France to collect the legacy, as soon as the weather breaks.

"I'm in no hurry," he said, "I got along without it before I knew about it, and I'll live in comfort if I never get it."

Lanoville has had several offers from Wall Street syndicates to buy out his birthright for immediate cash, he declared. But he has—and will—refuse all such advances.

Wife Helps Him in Business

Lanoville has been known by the Christian name of Denis, said to be the name of the sea-going man who kidnapped Count Lanoville's son, his public life—but his personal papers, bank books and the like, have always been made out in the name of Lanoville, he exhibited.

He is one of a family of 16 children and the father of 11 children, only three of which are living. He has been twice married and his present wife whom he wed five years ago assists him in conducting the family affairs and sale of a silver polish in New York City.

"I've been very contented," crooned Lanoville to the tune of a large spoon paddling the stew of lamb in the large pan "and the money won't change me—but who wouldn't be glad to get it?"

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR 8 MORE IN CONNECTION WITH THEFT

(By The Associated Press.)

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Feb. 7.—Warrants charging Nicky Arnstein and Charles Drucker, central figures in the $200,000 bond theft investigation in New York four years ago, and three others with obtaining $18,300 under false pretenses, were issued today.

The warrants, issued on application of M. W. Kashner, of New York, Pa., charge that the money was obtained in a wire tapping scheme in Youngstown in July, 1922. Police are investigating another wire tapping scheme here the same year in which a Hoboken, N. J., man was said to have lost $80,000 in an attempt to connect Arnstein and Drucker.

However, —comma —BY— JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Going to theater in New York these days isn't much pleasure.

The mad rush for tickets, the exorbitant prices charged for them, the wild scurry to get into a train or cab at theater time, have taken most of the joy out of it.

To get desirable seats for a success one must buy his tickets at the box office eight weeks in advance. And even then he doesn't get the pick of the seats, for the agencies, somehow, get there first.

The visitor who comes to town for only a few days is, therefore, at the mercy of the speculators. And they show little mercy.

However, comma, the native Gothamite is in just as bad a fix. He doesn't live in the hotel district, and has to get to the theater world via the subway, elevated railway, bus line or cab. And all of these are congested at show time. It is a repetition of the Rush Hour, which probably has wilted him an hour or two before. And now he has to go through it all over again—this time accompanied by a wife, or sweetheart, who keeps on nagging "Hok awful it is!"

Conditions in the neighborhood movie houses aren't much better. They offer a complex of their own. These theaters are usually owned by chain interests, which run the same program in several theaters usually close by.

On Broadway, between 120th street and 80th street, two miles of fine residential area, tapping the Riverside Drive quarter and West End avenue, there are about a dozen first-class movie theaters. Yet one can see only one or two shows in them. If he had seen them both, he is just out of luck, as far as the neighborhood show is concerned.

And the prices charged average 50 cents—for a show that used to be a nickel in the old days!

V. M. I. ALUMNI IN UNANIMOUS ACTION

At a meeting of the Danville and Pittsylvania county alumni and former cadets at the Virginia Military Institute, held at the Y. M. C. A. building last night, resolutions were unanimously adopted deploring the State budget proposal to dispend with the time-honored custom of appointing and maintaining State cadets or scholarships at that institution. A committee was appointed with Archibald D. Keen as chairman to prepare and circulate petitions asking the citizens to write in urging the General Assembly not to abolish these scholarships by means of which many of the most distinguished men the institute has graduated and given to the country admirably equipped for large patriotic service.

Coleman B. Conway was called to the chair at this meeting, and J. T. Hamlin, Jr., was secretary. Some twenty or more alumni being present. The sentiment of the meeting was the hearty declaration in favor of the perpetuation of the State cadetships, but was positively unanimous. The action of the meeting will be duly communicated to the Senate Finance Committee and the Appropriations Committee of the House of Delegates of Virginia.

SIBERIAN GENERAL'S EXECUTION DELAYED

(By The Associated Press.)
MOSCOW, Feb. 7.—A stay of execution in the death sentences against General Pepeliyev, former commander of the Siberian White Army, and 20 of his followers, has been ordered by the Siberian revolutionary committee. The committee has also asked the federal central executive to pardon the prisoners, declaring that the present strength of the Soviet federation permits the proletariat to forego revenge. Pepeliyev and his men were condemned by the military tribunal at Chita for their counter-revolutionary activities in Siberia, after Kolchak's defeat.

ANOTHER SOCIETY BEAUTY IN FILMS

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Encouraged by the success of Mrs. Lydie Hoyt on the screen and stage, society has given another of its beauties to the movies.

The new "apprentice" is Miss Thelma Morgan, known in New York's exclusive four hundred as Mrs. Morgan Converse.

Mrs. Converse, who wants to be known as plain Thelma Morgan, is making her screen debut in Gloria Swanson's newest film just completed but not yet released, "A Society Scandal."

She is a twin sister of Gloria, now Mrs. Reginald Claypoole Vanderbilt. Another sister, Connel, now Mrs. Benjamin Thaw of Pittsburgh, formerly was the Countess de Maupas. And her mother and father are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morgan, Morgan is American consul general at Buenos Aires. Thelma is only 18. She has liquid brown eyes and hair to match, worn long. And she has that same interest and energy that won Mrs. Lydie Hoyt such fame.

"My friends told me," Thelma explains, "that I took the part in Miss Swanson's film as a lark."

"With me a screen career is not a lark, but is most emphatically my most driving motive for living. I want to succeed, and if hard work will do it, I will win."

"I was afraid at first to make the plunge," she goes on. "I was afraid the screen folk would resent my intrusion, if you would call it that. Then I realized that no more help my family's social position than they could, and that the decent ones would realize it."

"I know too well that I will last in films only if I make good. Social position may gain an entry more quickly than otherwise might be the case, but it won't carry on indefinitely."

After all, there isn't anything peculiar about my going into films, I like to work and always have liked to.

"Doesn't that explain it?"

MRS. MORGAN CONVERSE

REMEMBERS FORMER WIFE IN HIS WILL

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The Duchess of Oporto, whose maiden name was Nevada Stooddy, was remembered today in the will of her former husband, Lee Albert Agnew, who died January 31 in his home in this city. The will, filed for probate in surrogate's court today, provides that the estate, approximately $750,000, shall be held in trust for his son, Lee Albert Agnew, Jr., with whom he resided. The father provides that the executor shall use so much of the income as they deem necessary to give the son some vacation in life whereby he may be able to support himself and for his maintenance.

An excess from this income, the will says, is to be paid to "My former wife, whose maiden name was Nevada Stooddy, and who, after the dissolution of the marriage between her and myself, became by a subsequent marriage the Duchess of Oporto. Her address is care of Morgan, Harjes and Company, Paris, or the Hotel Ritz, Chilton, New York."

BIG LONDON THROG ATTENDS SERVICES

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 7.—The memorial service for Woodrow Wilson in St. Margaret's Westminster, today was attended by a large delegation of British and American notables, including the entire staffs of the American embassy and consulates and members of the British cabinet. J. H. Thomas, Lord Haldane and Lord Parmoor. The eulogy was delivered by Canon Carnegie.

The King and Queen, the Prince of Wales and Queen Alexandra were represented at the services, as was Prime Minister MacDonald.

Canon Carnegie said, Woodrow Wilson's dream of world peace was in essence, "the same as St. John's dream of Christ's kingdom on earth."

CHICAGO TAKES STEPS TO CURB LAWLESSNESS

By J. P. YODER
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)

CHICAGO, Feb. 7. Gunmen and killer thugs are to have short shrift hereafter in Cook county.

That is the decision reached after a two day conference which superior court justices, police officials and the state's attorney held following the shooting up of a dance hall by three desperadoes early Sunday morning.

It appeared certain today that chief Justice Caverly's request for two additional judges to try criminal cases would be granted. The nine now sitting are literally swamped with murder and murderous assault cases that have been piled up on the calendar in the past two or three months.

It is the plan of the three branches of the city government to rush all cases to immediate indictment and trial within thirty days of arrest after grand jury action.

The Sunday shooting was a bloody and flagrant climax to Chicago's recent reign of lawlessness. Three notorious gunmen invaded a dance hall where the Truck Drivers and Chauffeurs' Union was holding a ball. Two carried automatics and the other a sawed off shotgun. There were at least 25 men, women and children in the hall at the time. As the three neared a platform where sat several dance officials, they began shooting. One man was killed instantly and eight or more were wounded.

Two of the bandits escaped but the third was caught and nearly beaten to death before the police arrived. He admitted his identity as Anthony Klisane, a beer runner for Terry drugstore millionaire post-Volstead dealer in breweries.

There have been a dozen other shootings equally sensational in the last few months, and the authorities have decided that it is time to call a halt.

New Lamp Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, O. S. Johnson, 642 N. Broad Street, Philadelphia, is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—adv.

WASHINGTON: TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1921.

PIEDMONT STAGE ROUTE.
LEAVES Washington at noon on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, passes through the counties of Fairfax, Prince William, Fauquier, Culpeper, Madison, Orange, Albemarle, Nelson, Amherst, to Lynchburg—thence through Campbell and Pennsylvania to Danville, and thence to Salem, North Carolina—at which place it intersects the Line to the Gold Region, and the Line to Columbia, Augusta, Milledgeville, &c.

Time to Danville, a distance of 268 miles, three and a half days. Fare, eighteen dollars.

This route branches at Lynchburg, and runs to Salem, Va. at which place it intersects the Valley Line to Tennessee, Alabama, &c.

Distance from Washington, to Salem, Virginia, 253 miles. Time, 3½ days, fare $17.25.

From Lynchburg the subscriber also owns a line to the Virginia Watering Places, travelled altogether in day time; distance 103 miles. Fare $5.00.

From Washington to Richmond 517 miles—to Augusta, distance is 524 miles—by Richmond 517 miles—the distance by my route is nearer than that by Richmond.

From six to nine hours allowed for sleep for each night. The accommodations are believed to be good throughout; but the best accommodations to Danville, to Salem, Va. and the Watering Places are provided by WM. SMITH, Culpeper C. House, Va.

P. S. For seats apply at Gadsby's Hotel, stage office next door to Brown's Tavern, and Barnard's, and Strother's Taverns.

A hundred years ago

An advertisement in the National Intelligencer in 1831—the year when the first railway was operated in the South—pictures the transportation facilities provided before the steam locomotive opened a new era of travel.

The Piedmont Stage Route announced a tri-weekly service between Washington and Danville, with the assurance to travelers that accommodations along the route were "believed to be good," and that six to nine hours were allowed for sleep each night.

The Route of the Piedmont Stage, on which some of the old landmarks still are to be discovered, was recently traced by a Southern Railway civil engineer, who drove an automobile from Washington to Danville. He beat the 3½ day schedule of the stage coach with an actual running time of 18½ hours and had to spend only one night on the road, but he suffered an out of pocket transportation expense of $38 compared with $18 for the traveler of a century ago.

The Southern Railway double-track main line, which closely parallels the old stage route, provides nine trains a day each way through the Piedmont. The fare is $8.50 instead of $18 for a seat in the stage coach, and the traveling time has been cut from three and a half days to seven hours.

A century of development has given the Piedmont and the whole South a transportation service beyond the dreams of the pioneer.

MRS. PUTNAM EMERGES FROM SECLUSION; GIVES WOMEN ADVICE

By ROBERT T. SMALL
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
DELRAY, Fla., Feb. 7.—Mrs. Nina Wilcox Putnam, the novelist, has emerged at last from the seclusion which followed her unfortunate attempt to transform an ex-claim digger and ex-house painter into a literary agent and adviser.
Mrs. Putnam emerged in a simple, light-colored gown and a small white hat with a bunch of camellias on one side. She came out to talk to the Miami branch of the league of American pen women, and if she ever entertained any real misgivings about the attitude of the public toward her as a result of her recent experiences, they were completely swept away by the cordiality of their reception and attentions the women showered upon her.
Mrs. Putnam gave intimate glimpses of the life of a professional writer. She took something of a slap at "the other side" of her marital misadventures by saying she had always been the breadwinner in the family—had been so ever since she was fifteen. And as for "inspiration," Mrs. Putnam indicated that was a professional language of Governor Al Smith of New York, "all bunk." She says her real inspiration comes from those Shakespearean words, often employed by the crasher, "Mah baby needs a new pair of shoes."
Homespun advice abounded in Mrs. Putnam's talk. She let it be known that she has no patience whatever with the woman who for the indulgence of her vanity neglects her domestic duties, for the sake of an amateur career.
"She deserves any sort of disaster which may befall her," said the author, "but it is different with the professional writer, the one who has to write to earn a living."
After the birth of my son, John Francis Putnam, six and a half years ago, I found it necessary to remove myself far from the family for a certain number of hours every day in order to accomplish anything worth while. At first I had my office in New York and commuted every day from our suburban home, but later I found it was not necessary to go so

JUSTICE TAFT ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Chief Justice Taft was said to have made rapid progress today toward complete recovery from the attack of indigestion which prevented him from attending the funeral of former President Woodrow Wilson. Although he remained in bed, he did not refrain from work, dictating considerable correspondence and giving attention to his judicial duties.
The chief justice expects to leave his bed tomorrow.

PAINTERS TO DEMAND INCREASE IN WAGES

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Chicago union painters will demand $1.50 an hour wage rate on April 1, an increase of 25 cents an hour over the existing wage scale. It was announced tonight. It is asserted that unless a unified local trades council is established through the efforts of a union of locals conference in New York, February 25, the International Painters' Union would withdraw from the trades department of the American Federation of Labor.

Why do you eat Bran?

TO FIGHT CONSTIPATION—the most dangerous condition your system can become chained to—to get free from biliary illness, dull headaches, nausea—etc., etc.!!!

Rid yourself of this dangerous condition—or start "slipping" and become a prey to any one of the most dreaded human ailments which have their beginning with constipation and toxic poisoning!

Fight constipation as you would fight fire! Fight it with Bran—Kellogg's Bran—BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN! Don't temporize! Don't waste time and health by going half-way! You need ALL BRAN; you need the bulk, the "roughage" of ALL BRAN, because it sweeps, cleanses and purifies!

REALIZE THIS—foods with a part bran content can only relieve constipation in proportion to the amount of bran they contain! If they are 25 or 50 per cent bran—you may get 25 or 50 per cent relief!

REMEMBER THIS—Kellogg's Bran is ALL BRAN and is guaranteed to give you positive and permanent relief if you will eat two table-spoonfuls daily, or as much with each meal in chronic cases!

Don't delay; don't fuss with half-way measures! You have too much at stake! All grocers sell—

Ached All Over

But "Now I am thankful to say I am much better and I owe it all to Cardui," says Mrs. Charlene McFarland, of Silverport, La.

"I got so weak and nervous about a year ago," states Mrs. McFarland, "I was good for nothing in this world. I trembled and shook. I was all run-down in spirit and health. I felt like I was a hundred years old."

"I had taken Cardui several years ago and it had been of great benefit to me, so I told my husband I would like to try it again. He got me a bottle and before I had taken it half up, I began to get better."

"Female trouble was the cause of my ill feeling. I would cramp dreadfully across my abdomen, and for days at a time I would ache all over—just like the toothache over my whole body. At times I suffered with an awful pain in my back and my head. My back nearly killed me until I took Cardui. Now I am thankful to say I am much better and I owe it all to Cardui. I am glad to give this wonderful medicine the praise that is due it. It has made me well again. I do all my own work and I feel like a different person."

"My sister used it for years and it was she who first told me what an excellent medicine it was for the illnesses women have."

For women's aches and pains, take Cardui. It should help you.

Wilson's Methods Must Be Used

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Asserting that the death of former President Wilson had served to bring into sharp contrast the era of chaos government he instituted with the sort of government the country is getting today, Chairman Hull of the Democratic National Committee declared in a statement tonight that the remedy for the alleged condition lay in the adoption of the steps instituted under the Wilson administration.

Referring to the lobby investigation under that administration as one of the present oil scandal revelations offer striking reminder of the very first important policy pursued by the Wilson administration, which was to expose and drive out of the capital the type of lobbyists representing the predatory interests in Washington.

Asserting conditions at that time which had been "left over from the Taft administration" had been "renewed on a four fold scale" under the present administration, Mr. Hull said they "call loudly" for an immediate resumption of the investigation policy of the Democratic administration.

As the other step, he said, there should be a renewal of effort to enact such a comprehensive corrupt practices act, calculated to prevent large expenditures of money "to control politics and the government itself," as was put through the House in the Wilson administration a few months before the entry of the United States into the war.

Poincare's Efforts Meeting Success

(By The Associated Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 7.—Premier Poincare won the first phase of his battle with the Chamber of Deputies for administrative economies and higher taxes by a majority of 12 votes.

The moderates and conservatives, after another violent session in which the socialists and communists and radicals repeated their obstructive tactics, rallied around the premier and gave him about 50 or more votes than the government had counted upon after yesterday's tumultuous debate.

The article, voted on today comprises only a general power to effect economies in administration by decree for four months from date of promulgation of the law, the rest of the details remaining to be acted upon as well as the proposed increase of 20 per cent. in taxes.

The cabinet, in agreement with the finance commission of the Chamber, decided to limit the authorization to four months so as not to appear to bind the new chamber to be elected in May. The general opinion now is that the Chamber of Deputies will vote all the measures the premier has demanded consideration of.

Jap Emigration Question Again Being Discussed

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The desire of the Japanese foreign minister for new negotiations with the United States government relative to the question of emigration of Japanese to the United States, indicated in the authorized statement made by the minister in Tokyo today, is assumed here to be based on the movement in Congress to restrict sharply by law the entrance of Japanese into the United States rather than to be a reflection of any refusal by the Washington government to talk matter over in a diplomatic way.

It is recognized in Washington that the Japanese immigration question is a difficult problem, and that the policy in Japan as it is in the United States. Many observers are inclined to believe that the minister's statement was prompted by such considerations.

There is little reason to suppose that the Japanese government does not fully understand that it would be useless to negotiate a new gentlemen's agreement on immigration, unless the terms of that agreement were entirely satisfactory to the forces at work in the United States which have led to congressional proposals for restrictions by law that might amount to Japanese exclusion.

THE NUT CRACKER

BY JOE WILLIAMS

We never suspected Walter Johnson had an enemy in the world until we learned he had been offered the management of the Washington club.

England was beaten by Sweden in a bob-sled race, and we suppose the new Labor party had something to do with that, too.

Tex Rickard writes that all prize-fights should be held in the open air. No one will deny that most of them need the air.

It is difficult to believe that the gamblers put $5000 under Joe Jackson's pillow. To begin with Jackson doesn't use a pillow.

The tennis stars will not be permitted to write about themselves any more, but we fear there's nothing that can keep them from talking about themselves.

THE GREAT UNWASHED.
Joe Jackson, testifying in the Black Sox suit: "I said to them, what do you take me for, you dirty bums."

Mabel Normand, in regard to one of those Hollywood things: "I said, come on, you dirty dogs, let's go."

Buster Keaton won a race at Tia Juana the other day, making a joke of his field, as might be expected.

It is rumored the Paddock affair will be hushed up. It would be more proper if the principals were hushed up.

We can't understand why they call Johnny Weissmuller the human fish. He doesn't look like a fellow who'd pay $7.50 to see a Broadway revue.

The right field foul line at the Yankees park has been lengthened 35 feet. You should feel gratified to know that 1924 foul balls are to be that much longer.

Young Stibbling, the fighter, started out in life to be an acrobat. That was before he tumbled to himself, as you might say.

SPORTS GOSSIP

Apparently Dave Shade has outgrown the water-wreath division. His manager is circulating literature proclaiming the California's ardent desire to mingle with the middle-weights.

Polo played on both sides of the ocean generally concede that Devereux Milburn, American's veteran horse polo star, is the greatest player of the present times.

Jim Barnes, who signed with the Pelham Bay club in the Metropolitan district at a fancy figure, after winning the open title at Washington three years ago, is no longer connected with that club. Barnes hasn't signed for next year yet.

The recent championship series between Cleveland and St. Paul hockey teams in the former city played capacity crowds. All seats were sold weeks in advance, and the management said the demand indicated a possible 15,500 attendance.

Charlie Davis, just back from New York where management about arranging an exhibition game here in the spring between the Yanks and their touring companions, the Brooklyn Dodgers, had little to give out. Mr. Davis said with Ed Barrow, business manager of the New York club, and Barrow stated that the team's exhibition schedule was full but assured Charlie that if there was any place for him, he would be there. The only thing left to do is to wait and pray that something will happen that will make possible the playing of a game here next spring between the two major league clubs.

Everything and everybody around the Piedmont circuit is buzzing baseball except Danville. Manager Murphy is keeping as still as a mouse about the completion of next year's Tobaccos. He, because Murphy is keeping quiet about his team doesn't mean that he isn't working to round one up. Down in his Georgia domicile Herb is no doubt signing players and prospects right and left. He isn't the sort of fellow to sit around and watch all the other fellows get together ball clubs and let his own particular outfit slide along until the last moment. Some of these days the third-baseman manager of the Danville team will receive a list of ball players on the local hot state league that will give them something to chew the rag about until the opening of the season. By the way, it is only about three weeks until Murphy is due to drift into town and then deep will fly thick and fast.

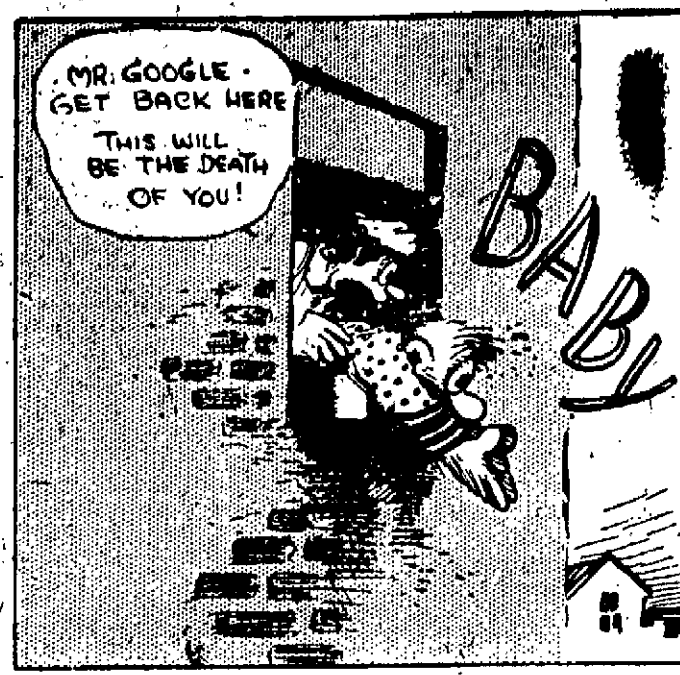

According to the Charlotte Observer, the Shorone News didn't get information regarding the signing of Damran as home manager from a very reliable source. The Observer states that Messrs. Hayman and Shorone have been holding plenty of consultations with Damran but up to a few days ago no definite agreement had been reached. Washington and Charlotte had better be setting some action on the manager subject for the season will be opening and they will be without a guiding hand at the head of their respective teams. The sooner they secure one the better.

While patiently or otherwise waiting for the opening of the baseball season local sport followers have the coming of Jack Dempsey to break the monotony. Monday week the leather pushing crowd will be here and will display his royal highness to the humdrum followers of the squared circle, bringing to realization the long cherished hope of many local folks to see a real, live, honest-to-goodness, heavyweight, boxing champion.

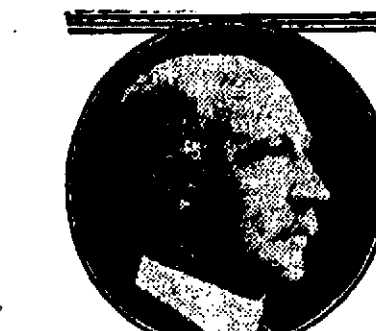

Joe Turner, the middleweight, wrestling titleholder, will take on Joe Shinkus as another feature of the Dempsey show. Those two grapplers ought to put up a good scrap and the royal which will follow will certainly produce an amicable frame of mind. The legal difficulties seem to have been ironed out at last, and Moody says that the show will be put on per schedule and that the matter is settled satisfactorily and permanently.

The Sportsman

By Walter Camp

By WALTER CAMP.
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The linerman adds is coming into his own as a football captain. In the early days of the intercollegiate game, some forty years ago, Blaine Ballard, a Princeton captain, lined up, enunciated the principle that a captain should be in the front line in order to lead his team. Mallory in the Yale backfield last year proved that a backfield man could lead, although it is true that his team could not keep an eye on him as they have had had he been in the front line. And there will be a lot of backfield leaders next fall, but the majority of the captains will be forwards. Of 53 teams that have picked their captains, 14 selected tackles, 7 centers, 4 guards and 8 ends. Six elected quarterbacks and 14 half backs or full backs. Athletic enthusiasts will learn with regret of the disqualification on account of failure in a major study, of John Thomas of the University of Chicago. Thomas is the man who, up on the occasion of the visit of the Princeton football team to Chicago, scored as many touchdowns against the Tigers in a half hour as Harvard had been able to do in six years.

FOUR DISTINCT STAGES TO GOLF SWING SAYS MARSTON

By WALTER CAMP.
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Max Marston, the amateur golf champion, has come out with a description of his swing in which he says that his game depends upon the theory that there are four elements, or distinct stages, to the golf swing.

The first is to keep the left arm straight from the beginning, as far back as it will go. If Marston will study pictures of some of the star British players of two or three decades ago, he will be astonished to see how far back and up the left arm can be kept straight. These photographs demonstrated, when the writer was putting forward the theory of the straight left arm, that it can be practically locked to an astonishing height, and this straight left arm is a common feature of nearly all high-class players.

The second move Marston describes as bending the elbows with a break at the wrist, at the top of a back swing. The writer is inclined to think the average player would do better without this second move. The third is straightening the left arm again on the down swing. The fourth is the follow through, in which Marston describes the finish of the follow through. Well, as a matter of fact, it does not make much difference at that point what the elbow or movement is the necessary result of the earlier part of the swing.

Reds Get Signed Contract of Pete Donohue, Hurler

(Associated Press Lined Wire)
CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 8.—The signed contract of Pete Donohue, star right hander of the Cincinnati National League baseball team, has been received at club headquarters and the young Texan will report at Orlando with the other pitchers March 2.

All of the Red pitchers are now under contract with the exception of Jack May, who has not been heard of since he was purchased from the Vernon Club of the Pacific Coast League. A contract, mailed to his home at Wendell, N. C., some weeks ago has not been returned. Some regulars who have not returned signed contracts are Ed. Roush, Sammie Bohne and Lew Fonseca.

Dauss and Henry Holding Out for Salary Increase

(By Associated Press)
DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 8.—Pitcher Dauss, winner of twenty games for the Detroit American League team last year, and Fred Henry, utility infielder, have asked for an increase in salary before signing contracts this year. It became known here today. Neither have sent back their contracts, but both have written asking that the amount called for be increased.

The men are not "holdouts." Secretary Charles Navin said, "It is a matter of business and everything will be adjusted satisfactorily." Dauss was one of five pitchers in the league to win twenty games.

Villa to Risk Title Tonight to Calif. Flyweight

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Pancho Villa, world's featherweight champion, will risk his title tonight at Madison Square Garden in a 15-round match with Georgia Marik, California flyweight. Despite Marik's impressive record of 147 victories in 148 bouts Villa is a favorite to retain his 112 pound title.

DODGERS SIGN UP A FENCE-BUSTER

(Chicago Tribune Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—President Ebbetts of the Brooklyn Dodgers wired from Clearwater, Fla., today that he had received the signed contract of a young fence-buster of Yonkers, N. Y.

The report from England that the victory of the noted golf writer, Bernard Darwin, in the tournament of the Oxford-Cambridge Golfing Society was a popular one, will be seconded heartily over here. Darwin is one of the most pleasing and satisfactory of all golfing scribes, and more than that, his game is an admirable one, full of pluck and tenacity. His approach is things of joy and beauty to all but his opponents. Incidentally, he defeated a field of good men, including Cyril Tolley.

On the highly timely subject of a lighter golf ball, one professional writes: "The ball is making a 'monkey' of the golf course. Holes measuring say 440 to 480 yards today are no longer real two-shotters." This is commended to the consideration of the 95 per cent. of golfers scattered this country over, who are hardly likely to be worried when they stand on the tee of a 450-yard hole. They drive so far that they will have to restrain their second shot for fear of going over the green. The question comes right back to the old one of whether we are making our golf courses and our balls for men who have to use mid-irons or mashies for their second shots to 480-yard holes.

Despite the controversy that is going on between French and American physicians on the question of the responsibility of scanty apparel for influenza among women, the Vassar girls, during the recent cold snap, appeared in knickerbockers and bare knees, and evidently thrived on it.

Y. Walter Simpson, catcher and outfielder, who was obtained from the Springfield Club of the Eastern League, Simpson did not perform behind the plate last year, but as he is listed as a catcher he will probably be ordered to report to Manager Robinson at Clearwater with members of the battery department on February 21. With Springfield last season Simpson compiled a batting mark of .350 and created several league records. He established one new mark for that league by clouting forty-four home runs.

Several years ago he was briefly with the Toronto International League, during the war when Simpson was a young man. Jack Hendricks had him with the St. Louis Cardinals for a time.

FOR THE GAME'S SAKE

BY LAWRENCE PERRY

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—No more un-til later, says William Tilden, concluding a short dissenting opinion upon the action of the United States Lawn Tennis Association in ruling against player-writers. Does this mean that Tilden proposes to combat the restriction? If so, how?

Is the good will of the U. S. L. T. A. more important, to Tilden, than his good will to the national tennis organization? Tilden's value as a tennis player is self-evident. Just now he stands as the barrier between American tennis and those who would diminish its prestige by defeating us in the Davis Cup finals.

His withdrawal from play would probably be calamitous. In the near future at least, so far as our success in international tennis is concerned.

On the other hand, were the U. S. L. T. A. to find it expedient to use the big stick upon its world champion and bar him from tournaments, Tilden would be very much in the position of a man who is all dressed up and no place to go.

In fact both sides stand to lose so much that it is thought a good year will elapse before the application of the rule. In a course of twelve months, lots of water will flow over the dam and there will be opportunity for matured thought and unhurried deliberation.

Moody Issues Statement on Dempsey Show

L. H. Moody last night issued over his signature a statement bearing on the forthcoming exhibition here of Jack Dempsey, in which he asserts that he has never had any intention of violating any law and that the show to be staged here will be similar to that given in Richmond which will be a few days before the champion's local appearance. Moody's statement is as follows:

"In following the press carefully in its mention of the proposed Jack Dempsey exhibition, as arranged by me, so far I have refrained from any discussion other than to announce the closing of an agreement with Mr. Kearns for Mr. Dempsey and his staff to appear in this city. It has never been any intention on my part to violate any laws in Danville or my native State, or to place any particular official in a position of doubt as to the proper method to take to uphold the law. I have consulted every authority pertaining to this show and have as yet to receive anything but encouragement. It is my desire to give the followers of this sport a strictly high-class entertainment. The time this movement was started a whole week was consumed in making this date the community was duly informed of every step I made. I feel that the time to offer any objection was then, not to wait until I had gone to the expense that I have to date. Also the publicity given this event will not in the future offer much encouragement to local men to give their valuable time and money to provide a recreation in Danville such as enjoyed by other cities in our State."

"Mr. Dempsey appears in Richmond on Feb. 15, and it goes without saying a full and complete program will be rendered and enjoyed. The law that applies to Richmond applies here. I will present to the citizens of this city and visitors exactly the same that will be in Richmond. Fully believing these are

LETHAL GAS EXECUTION OF CHINESE TONG SAYER WILL TAKE PLACE TODAY

(Associated Press Local Wire)
CARSON CITY, Nev., Feb. 8.—
Geo. Jon was pronounced dead at 9:17 a. m. and person witnessing the execution said death occurred the thirty seconds after the gas was turned into the death chamber.

NEVADA STATE PRISON, CAR-
SON, Nev., Feb. 8.—Geo. Jon, Chinese tong sayer, faced death this morning in the first execution by lethal gas in American history.

Until last night two men had been doomed to die in this execution. At a special meeting of the state board of pardons, however, it was decided by the vote of Governor Scruggs to commute to life imprisonment the sentence of the other condemned man, Thomas Russell, an American born Mexican, convicted of killing his sweetheart, an Indian girl.

P. A. McCarran, former justice of the Nevada Supreme court had made a plea for Russell, an argument largely based on the evidence that he had instilled all along, as he saw death a few hours away, that he was innocent and that it was his mother who was the slayer of the girl. The governor concurred in this doubt and immediately commuted the sentence.

The deadly gas which will be vaporized from a liquid solution of hydrocyanic acid was in another airtight stone compartment. Warden Denver E. Dickerson had arranged for the witnesses to view the execution through two windows.
A rehearsal of the execution yesterday afternoon snuffed out the lives of two rats in fifteen seconds. The cats died apparently instantly without pain. It was charged that Geo.
Jon and another Chinese, now serving a life sentence, were sent from San Francisco by a tong to execute Tom Quon Kee, member of a rival tong.
In the tong fight to state of the execution two appeals were made to the secretary of the United States on the ground that lethal gas was an inhuman form of execution.
The Supreme court refused to hear the plea.

CARSON CITY, Nev., Feb. 8.—In this little far Western community according to population records the smallest state capitol has created modern science prepared today to join hands with the ancient Mosaic law of "an eye for a eye and a tooth for a tooth" in legally snuffing out two human lives.

Some time between sun up and noon
two men, both convicted of murder will be led by guards into a little stone igloo in the middle of the bleak and rockwalled yard of the state prison. Inside the igloo will be two steel coils in which they will be locked. Then a heavy steel outer door, which will make their prison a hermetically sealed cubicle, will be clanged shut upon them.

Almost immediately another guard will turn a petcock on a pipe connecting a small steel tank with the interior of the little stone house. An infinitesimal part of a second later, it is expected that the souls of two prisoners will have been ushered into eternity.

The two men to be put to death are Geo. Jon, a Chinese-tong killer and Thomas Russell, an American born Mexican. Geo. Jon was convicted of wantonly shooting down another aged Chinese whom he had never seen before, while playing the role of paid tong assassin. Russell, a mere youth in years and regarding whose guilt
even high state officials are doubtful, trusts die for the alleged murder of his Indian sweetheart.

The contents of the steel tank which will be driven into the airtight igloo will be hydrocyanic gas, declared by expert chemists to be the quickest and most deadly gas known. A single short breath of it, it is claimed, solidifies the lungs and coagulates
the blood so that heart action stops instantly. It is quicker than the stopping of the heart, however, is said to be the rendering unconscious of persons who breathe it.

The entire execution proceedings, however, will be solely in the natural experiment. The trying out of the lethal gas upon two human beings has not even been preceded by experiment upon animals. In adopting it, the state of Nevada, which first hung and shot its condemned murderers, is simply seeking a more humane and more painless method of carrying out the law's extreme penalty.

Prison officials and guards who will carry out the double execution frankly admit themselves fearful of the results. Four guards already have resisted a half dozen physicians who will be called in to witness the execution. They are carefully watched to prevent any of them from being accidentally done to death. After the two condemned prisoners are lifeless, all witnesses and guards will be driven from the prison yard before the gas in the igloo is released through a vent in the roof of the structure.

Even then, with an air hose inserted through an aperture to help drive out the deadly fumes, it will be an hour before a physician wearing a gas mask will venture inside to examine the bodies of the executed men.

The sentence of death as it will be carried out will not be in strict conformity with the law which the Nevada legislature enacted in its efforts to make legalized death a torturous and human thing. The law provides that the condemned shall be put to death sometime within a 30 days period of confinement in the "gas death house," and that the lethal gas shall be administered while they are asleep.

ation as special counsel) for E. L. Doheny in a letter to Chairman Lenroot requesting an immediate hearing. His request was made public by the committee during the day, had received a letter from Mr. Doheny saying he had been in error in testifying that he had paid Mr. McAdoo and the firm with $250,000 "all told" for legal matters and that the amount was $150,000, the figure announced by Mr. McAdoo in a statement at the time.

Mr. McAdoo, in his letter to the committee chairman, declared that "if my conduct in acting professionally for the Doheny companies in the Mexican oil matters 'is open to criticism, then no lawyer can take a cabinet office unless he be rich enough to give up all preferential employment in business when he comes out of office." Asserting that he had "never dealt in political influence, nor do I ask or promise or give or receive, political favors or the favors." He said he was terminating his connections with the California oil magnate because he feared
"that the newspapers might be as "vicious and unfair" to Mr. Doheny
as they had been to him.

He described as "monstrously unfair" the "whispered suggestions" that he and the others, lawyers and laymen who helped in the Mexican enterprises of which Mr. Doheny is the head, "share any taint of any kind" and probably recent "insultations" that because the late Franklin K. Lane, after his service as secretary of the interior, resigned and became quite openly, an officer of the Doheny companies, he thereby shares
the taint of corruption.

The committee's work was reduced only slightly yesterday by its decision not to attempt further to question former Secretary Fall, lest such action give him immunity from prosecution and the large number of witnesses, including brokers, bankers and others from whom information is sought to determine whether any government officials dealt in the stock of companies formed to take over the oil leases, are waiting to testify. Accountants reporting the committee ready are examining the records of some brokerage houses with this end in view and a formal request has been made to Seymour Cromwell, president of the New York Stock Exchange, to present certain information bearing on the subject.

ALL AT HALF-MAST BUT GERMANY

When official announcement of death of Woodrow Wilson was made, flags of all foreign embassies, with exception of German, were placed at half-mast. Left to right: France, England, and Germany. The latter, under pressure, agreed to place flag at half-mast during funeral ceremonies.

GERMANY BLAMES AMBASSADOR FOR FLAG INCIDENT; RECALL FROM U. S. CONSIDERED LIKELY

By JOHN CLAYTON
(Copyright, 1924 by The Chicago Tribune)

BERLIN, Feb. 7.—The recall of German ambassador to the United States, Ulrich von Diederichs, is being discussed in the German press today.
The failure of the German am-bassy at Washington to fly its flag at half-mast after Woodrow Wilson's death, "An official communiqué puts the blame squarely on the shoulders of ambassador, while the press with one voice (when this happens) in Germany it is usually inspired) states that the ambassador made a great mistake and that Dr. Wiedefeld must know that putting the flag at half-mast was an honor not only to Mr.
Wilson but the whole American people."

B. Houghton, American ambassador to Berlin, paid an official call on Foreign Minister Strassemann today and while the embassy refused to give out a statement it is known that it was in connection with the flag incident.

In political circles Dr. Wiedefeld is held in high esteem. However, if Dr. Wiedefeld did not comprehend the instructions, Strassemann is blamed for not making them more clear.

It has been suggested that no official cognizance be taken of Wilson's death (which is asserted here among Dr. Wiedefeld's friends) this instruction is ascribed to his fear that opposing political parties would make capital against him out of the incident.

American circles here are furious over the unfortunate affair. They recall that the American embassy denied its flag at half-mast following the murder of Dr. Walter Rathenau as a tribute to that German leader's services to his country.

that the organization will succeed in preventing the "plutocratization" of education. He gave assurance that he will do all in his power to foster the work of extending education as widely as possible among students of limited means.

SOUTH NOW GETTING HARD BOILED TOWARD ITS WOMEN

(By MILLARD FERGUSON
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)

ATLANTA, Feb. 8.—The chival-rous South is getting hard boiled.
Where women are concerned. Instead of spreading velvet cloaks over mud puddles for their fair feet to walk upon, it is returning adverse verdicts in breach of promise suits and deciding on "the rope," or life sentences for pretty defendants accused of murder.

Mrs. Onezima Deboche, society woman from New Orleans, asked for $500,000 from M. A. A. Candler, goes cola king who set a new record in love letter writing at the age of 70 and received nothing.

A jury of Atlanta citizens spent two days and a half listening to letters written by Mr. Candler to Mrs. De-boche. Then, after 45 minutes deliberation and without even waiting for dinner, the jury returned a verdict refusing the plaintiff even a penny.

Just a short while previously, Mrs.
Ida Hughes was tried here on the charge of murdering her mother-in-law, whom she shot through the head when the latter went to the Hughes' home with a search warrant. Mrs.
Hughes was found guilty of murder without recommendation to mercy, which meant that the death sentence must be imposed. She was sentenced to be hanged, and is now appealing for a new trial.

In the same cell with Mrs. Hughes in Fulton county Jail is Mrs. Ollie Justiss, who has been sentenced to life imprisonment for killing Dewitt Turner, "because she loved him." In her case, tried only a short while ago,
the jury returned a verdict of guilty with recommendation of mercy which automatically imposed a sentence of life imprisonment. Mrs. Justiss will be sent in a few days to the state prison farm to begin her life long sentence.

She will find there another Atlanta woman, Mrs. Cora Loy Vinson, in for life because she shot her husband to death in his office here. Mrs. Vinson was found guilty of murder and sentenced to be hanged and was saved from the rope only thru commutation of her sentence.

The Candler-Deboche suit has furnished manufacturers for a new name for candy and breakfast foods "sweet-um," that is the word of endearment with which Mr. Candler began most of his letters to Mrs. Deboche. Since the appearance of the letters a new brand of caramels has been put on the market named "Sweetum." Strowed by a breakfast food given the same alluring title.

In ordering coca cola it is the proper thing here just now to say: "Gimme a sweetum."

OLD FIUME DIVORCE MILL TO PASS OUT OF EXISTENCE SOON

(Chicago Tribune Service)

FIUME, Feb. 7.—The old Fiume divorce mill, which operated efficiently if quietly, for the past thirty years for the members of the Italian aristocracy, will pass out of existence with the ratification of the treaty of Rome between Italy and Yugo-Slavia, establishing Fiume as a part of the territory of Italy.

Under the old Hungarian divorce laws Fiume had gained the name of and pecuniary rewards of a great European Reno, where all wealthy Italians, barred from divorce by the rigid marriage laws of their country, went to set themselves free from irksome ties. Since the war, although Fiume was no longer in Hungarian territory, it retained the Hungarian divorce laws and the mill continued merrily to grind. One of the most recent examples of notable divorces obtained here was that of the Buccompagni (a large family) of Washington, D. C., who were citizens of Fiume in order freed from the head of a famous man, family.

Although more than a thousand cases are pending—many of them in their earliest stages, which require of application for citizenship in order that they will all be dropped immediately, resulting in huge losses to the local legal fraternity.

BRITISH BUILDING MANY MARINE OIL BURNERS

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The growing demand for oil-engine steamers is shown from the fact that there are orders in hand throughout the world for 150 such vessels, of which 50 are under construction or will be put down in British yards.

According to Motor Ship, the tonnage of the cargo boats will be more than 1,000,000 tons, deadweight, and of passenger vessels, 144,000 tons gross. During the year 1923 between 80 and 90 motorships were completed and launched.

First Bottle Tanlac Brought Improvement

Mrs. Etta Rivers, 21 So. West St., Petersburg, Va., is another to whom the famous Tanlac treatment has restored the joys of good health. Mrs.
Rivers relates her experience as follows:
"Three years of stomach trouble had weakened me until I was so rundown that I could hardly attend to my household duties. Even the very simplest foods caused me trouble and I also had the worst sort of headaches with such bad dizzy spells I could hardly see. I suffered with severe pains in my back and got up mornings feeling dull and listless and without energy.

"Even before I had finished my first bottle of Tanlac I felt a wonderful change coming over me. And as soon as a month's time my troubles were ended and I was feeling better than in years. Tanlac is better than any other medicine I have ever used. I suffering as I did would try it."
Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Rich Germans Loaf as Babies Strave

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—Something like a public scandal has been roused by the fact that numerous German aristocrats are loafing in the most luxurious hotels in Switzerland during a winter vacation while hundreds of thousands of their countrymen are practically starving at home. Their conduct especially aroused indignation among Swiss people who have made and are still making large contributions to charity funds collected for relief in Germany.
In a letter addressed to the Vorwarts, a Swiss woman writes: "More than 1,700 German children are at present enjoying the hospitality of the Swiss people and are having a good time here. More of them are expected to come here in April. Collections have been started in schools and churches to help starving German children. Since the beginning of December more than a million charity parcels are being dispatched to Germany every day. Zurich supports a soup kitchen at Stuttgart."
"At the same time it has become known that about seventy per cent. of all hotel guests in Switzerland are Germans. The Swiss government ought to be after them to compel them to 'do their bit for their country' just as well since they do not see fit to be inclined to give voluntarily. The Swiss are gratified a good deal that these people have the nerve to go on living in luxury while at the same time lots of their countrymen are begging abroad for a piece of bread. They ought to be ashamed of their conduct."
The Vorwarts, commenting upon the letter, says: "If the writer of this letter believes that there is the slightest inkling of compassion with the plight of the broad mass of the German people within the hearts of these our countrymen, she is unfortunately very much mistaken. You cannot teach them anything even about proper sense of shame. They have simply lost it in the course of years in which they used to exploit the German people for their own pocket-books."

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(Associated Press Special Wire)
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 8.—The tone was unsettled on the early trading in cotton today and prices swung from net advances of 2 to 10 points soon after the opening to net declines of 10 to 15 points a little later. March traded as high as 33.32 and as low as 33.14; October traded as high as 27.60 and as low as 27.40. Continued cold weather over the belt resulted in small buying; estimated sales of print cloths at Fall River estimated at about 50,000 pieces resulted in fairly general selling.

NEW YORK STOCKS

(Associated Press Special Wire)
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Stock prices started to sag on the opening today under the weight of a large volume of realizing sales. Initial reactions were largely fractional but were spread over a broad list. Equipments held relatively firm.
Selling orders continued to predominate in the early dealings. Oils were again in supply as result of federal investigation of gasoline prices and higher crude production and imports, royal dutch dropping 13-14 and Phillips Petroleum, Pacific, Houston and Standard Oil New Jersey, each falling about a point. Mack Truck falling 1 to 2 points. There were a few strong spots, notably in Harvester, Adams Express and White Motor Oil, all up a point or so. Foreign exchange opened irregular.

The REFEREE

BY ALBERT APPLE

ALCOHOLIC.

The death rate from diabetes increases a tenth in one year. A medical specialist at Johns Hopkins University blames prohibition, which has greatly increased the average American's consumption of sugar. Diabetes is a disease of the pancreatic gland, and excessive use of sugar is apt to make this gland function abnormally.
Alcohol, however, has a similar effect on the pancreas. In some respects, sugar and alcohol are twins. Drunkards, sobering up, usually eat a lot of candy. To date, the most important result of prohibition seems to be its effect on the pancreatic gland.

CONTRAST.

Man in scientific fields is winning control over nature on an astonishingly wide scale. The General Electric Company, for example, has developed an electric light bulb ever made—150,000 candlepower. Alongside it is the smallest electric light, a bulb size of a grain of rice, used in delicate surgical operations, such as that of cent removal of a tick from a baby's lump.

By ancient standards, we are a race of magicians.

SPENDERS.

Two-thirds as much money is spent for fun by Americans, as for insurance, according to Dr. John A. Stevenson, vice-president of the Equitable Life. This strikes us as about the last word in contrasts. It indicates that the element of fear is being eliminated in our civilization. In the matter of money, we are a race of spenders. Viewpoints vary regarding this situation. However, the national income is 70 per cent. "insured."

ICEBERGS.

Regarding this discussion of whether or not the climate is changing, winters milder than formerly—you may have observed that our generation does not see the huge icebergs that used to hang from the eaves. We recall icebergs larger than baseball bats, lots of them. It was great sport for a lad, in the days when Bryan was making his first runs for the presidency, to knock down the big icebergs with a stick, then run for safety as they fell.
In some ways, it was as big a thrill as radio.

BITERS.

Mosquito, pest and disease carrier, is being studied by government experts. They find that the adult females, which do all the "biting," get blood for their young, thrive quite well on a diet of fruit, especially bananas, and honey, molasses and other sweets. Blood, however, is absolutely necessary for the development of mosquito eggs.
This interesting investigation may eventually lead to a method of eliminating the mosquito, which has been known to live as long as 154 days.

RUSS.

Russia announces that in 1923 she exported about one and a quarter million tons of grain. Roughly a fourth of it went to Germany.
This doesn't necessarily reflect a natural comeback of Russia in the world grain markets. Maybe a lot of Russians starved while this grain was being exported. China, during the worst famine, always manages to export eggs.

ate an opening this morning about closing prices of yesterday. Liquidation was so much large character that traders are apt to conclude that the market is in a healthy position again but I differ with them on the ground that the selling was of a highly speculative nature and as yet no break in the spot situation has been seen.
I expect a better undertone today but on the hard spots would sell the market with the feeling that good profits will follow in a short time. Profits will be high on the way to the morning cotton letter.
